

Self-Checkout

Help your customers to serve themselves safely and simply with Flooid's hassle-free Self-Checkout

Unleash the power of Flooid's Self-Checkout to make the self-scan experience easy and quick. Allow your customers to shop efficiently, improving their total shopping experience. And dedicate more of your associates' time to supporting and serving the shopper, improving your store operations and service.

Self-Checkout allows you to leverage your current self-checkout hardware investment or create an entirely new customer experience with your preferred hardware provider. Whether your goal is to offer a traditional self-checkout experience or cash-free options, Flooid will help you increase hardware lifespan, lower your total cost of ownership, and reinvigorate rarely-used tills with Convertible Lane capabilities.

Self-Checkout advantages:

- Hardware agnostic
- Same retail software with customer-friendly user interface
- Keeps existing cashier UI for store assist mode
- Safeguard your current self-checkout hardware investment while enjoying the added benefits of Flooid functionality
- Food service or other kiosk activities
- Switch seamlessly from cashier-operated to Self-Checkout with an inexpensive swing arm Convertible Lane

Flooid's Self-Checkout solution gives retailers the chance to rapidly deploy a low cost solution for self-checkout, bringing all commerce systems into one, without the need for a complex integration project with a self-checkout vendor.

Product Owner, Flooid

A robust commerce platform

Flooid's single platform brings self-checkout and other commerce systems together. Your customers save time. You avoid complications.

Leverage existing investments

Flooid's Self-Checkout solution is device and operating system agnostic. That means no rip and replace of existing hardware – it works with what you already have. With Flooid, manned registers can become convertible lanes, capable of being operated by either customers or staff.

Enhance customer journeys

Customers prize experience above all else. With Flooid's Self-Checkout solution, they can scan, pay and go without staff interaction – shortening the journey and giving them more time to enjoy their day. You benefit through continuous use of every lane without staff costs.

Reduce overheads

Flooid's Self-Checkout solution drives down your total cost of ownership. Extend hardware lifetime and deliver self-checkout while keeping your point-of-service operations consistent across mixed estates and multiple formats. Enjoy single reports in granular detail. As self-checkout goes live, staff costs fall while available store space rises.
